Chicago Park District Extends Beach Hours To Allow For Star-Gazing Meteor Event

Chicagoans will have a special opportunity to view the annual Perseid Meteor Shower of shooting stars at 12th Street Beach and Montrose Beach in the evenings of August 10th and 11th this year. The Chicago Park District, in partnership with the Illinois Science Council, will extend access hours at those two beaches until midnight on Saturday August 10 and Sunday, August 11 so people can use the lakefront to look for shooting stars. Participants need to remain on the beach. The City of Evanston will extend access hours at Lighthouse Beach until midnight those days as well.

Best viewing of this annual astronomical event is in the night sky in mid-August. In 2013, the Perseids' peak activity takes place August 10-13 in the evenings through pre-dawn hours. While stargazing in Chicago is hampered by light pollution, the City's position west of the lake is fortunate. Ideal viewing for Chicagoans, if you can't drive away from the City to darker areas, is along the lakefront, facing northeast away from city lights and toward rising stars. The moon phase this year – a thin waxing crescent – also helps. It will not be too bright to interfere with viewing on that date, provided the sky is clear of clouds.

The Perseid Meteor Shower phenomenon occurs when the earth's orbit passes through the cloud of particles ejected from the comet Swift-Tuttle as it travels on its 130-year orbit. The Perseids are so-called because the point from which they appear to come in the sky, called the radiant, lies in the constellation Perseus. This display of "shooting stars" is visible in the night sky for several weeks each year, with peak activity between August 9 and 14. They can be seen all across the sky, but because of the Swift-Tuttle's orbit path, Perseids are primarily visible in the northern hemisphere.

Meteor Viewing 2013:

Sunday, August 11 9:00pm – 12:00 midnight

Illinois Science Council ("ISC") is an independent, 501c3 organization that engages, educates, and entertains the public about science and technology in our everyday lives. We focus on an adult audience and showcase the scientists and the research of Chicago-area institutions and companies that make Chicago our country's true "City of Science." ISC presented free educational talks about asteroids, comets and meteorites in collaboration with Chicago Public library this week at the Roosevelt and Uptown library branches. Dr. Laura Trouille and Carl Rodriguez of Northwestern University's Astronomy Department, and Drew Carhart of the Naperville Astronomical Society and Field Museum's meteorite department gave lively talks on the Perseid meteor shower allowed attendees to see actual meteorites up close from the Field Museum's collection.

Coyotes in Skokie

Over the past several years, coyote sightings have become more prevalent within the Village of Skokie and surrounding communities. Coyotes are generally timid and shy animals that tend to steer clear of any potential danger and, thus, pose little threat to humans. Statistics from the Illinois Department of Natural Resources cite attacks on humans as extremely rare.

Residents with small pets (less than 20 pounds) should supervise them while outdoors. ALWAYS use a leash when walking your dog. Retractable leashes are not recommended as they tend to jam and can make it difficult for you to protect your pet from a predator.

The most effective way to prevent coyote attacks in your neighborhood is to eliminate wildlife feeding. It is extremely important that neighborhoods do not feed coyotes, either intentionally or accidentally. If you see a coyote during the daytime or are approached by a coyote, you should yell, wave your arms, and/or throw something at the coyote (do not run away)! Parents should educate their children on how to identify and stay away from coyotes and other wildlife.

Domestic cats left outdoors can also serve to attract coyotes; it is important that domestic cats be kept indoors. Dogs that are left outside (especially small dogs) should also be watched with caution.

For more information or to report a coyote sighting, please contact the Skokie Animal Control at 847-933-8484.

Too Much Noise? Too Many Planes? Can't Sleep at Night?

FAiR

Allocation in Runways

FAiR is a coalition of neighborhood groups and concerned citizens who are trying to achieve an equitable distribution in runway use. Current plans will shift 58% of nighttime air traffic to one runway (which will adversely affect noise levels in our neighborhood). We believe this will not only affect the quality of our lives but will lead to increased noise and environmental pollution as well as lowering property values.

Please help your neighborhood and sign the FAiR petition.

Let your voice can be heard. Sign our petition at:

<http://www.change.org/petitions/faa-immediately-halt-plans-to-change-runway-usage-in-october-2013>

FAiR Allocation In Runways

POLICY STATEMENT

The O'Hare Modernization Project (OMP) is a Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) proposed change to landing and take-off patterns that is due to take effect in October 2013 if we are not successful in stopping it. The OMP will drastically increase air traffic over both northwest (NW) Chicago and the near NW suburbs by shifting current airplane traffic, now arriving from many directions, into landing and take offs from only two directions, East and West, directly over the NW side of Chicago and near NW suburbs. In addition, the project intends to shift 85% of all nighttime landings to routes directly over the NW side.

This massive shift in airplane traffic puts the burden of noise, fuel, air and visual pollution almost solely on the residents and businesses of the Northwest side of Chicago and the near NW suburbs. Nearly all these communities predate O'Hare's conversion to a commercial airport in the '50s and this shift is neither necessary nor desirable. This concentrated increase in airplane traffic will negatively impact the health and quality of life for residents and businesses on the NW side of Chicago and the NW suburbs.

Fair Allocation in Runways (FAiR) Coalition proposes the following solutions:

1. Immediately halt the proposed takeoff and landing plan. Devise, instead, a neighborhood-based plan, working with community groups, businesses, the ONCC and the FAA, for fair allocation of air traffic between existing and new runways and day and night air traffic.
2. Support the City of Park Ridge's request that a Supplemental Environmental Impact Statement (SEIS) be conducted to verify what the actual, 2013 environmental impacts will be from this new plan. Significant changes have occurred since the original EIS was done in 2005 and need to be addressed.
3. Continue to utilize all existing and new runways.
4. Expand noise monitoring and abatement programs to ensure specific communities are not unduly burdened.
5. Make "Fly Quiet" the official mandatory policy for O'Hare.

The new OMP will condense O'Hare air traffic to three main runways known as 9R/27L (Thorndale), 10L/28R (Lawrence) and 28C/10C (Wilson). In addition, this plan would shift 85% of night traffic from current runways to Thorndale, in an east-west flow between 11PM and 6AM.

The following are some of the significant reasons why a SEIS is needed:

- The current method for determining if sound level from planes is high enough to for soundproofing is based on averaging sound over a 24-hour period ("DNL" – Day Night Level), which does not accurately reflect the stress of noise to area residents.
- The noise contour has not been updated since the 2005 EIS "Record of Decision" ("ROD") for O'Hare modernization. An update is required at the end of the modernization plus five years, which tentatively puts this out to 2025. Homes outside the current EIS contour, which are experiencing greatly increased levels of noise, will not be offered sound proofing until that time.
- The loss of hundreds of thousands of ash trees since 2005 was not addressed in the 2005 Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) which cited suburban, urban and Cook County Forest Preserve District trees as a component of the air and noise pollution mitigation. The loss of these trees is significant. Chicago trees alone save taxpayers millions of dollars in energy savings as well as reducing air pollution in a study completed by the US Department of Agriculture (Gen. Tech. Rep. NE-186, 1994).
- Carbon dioxide emissions from jet aircraft are not included in the 2005 EIS and are not regulated.
- Ozone and particulate matter measured and reported in the 2005 EIS, are now well above current EPS standards.
- The FAA's Next Gen technology will allow more planes to land and takeoff on each runway concentrating noise into a virtual railroad track in the sky in approaching or departing from runways.

Fly Quiet Program is currently a voluntary program that encourages pilots and air traffic controllers to use designated nighttime preferential runways and flight tracks that direct aircraft over less populated areas, such as forest preserves, highways, and industrial areas (source: Chicago Dept. of Aviation).

AN INVITATION TO AN INCREDIBLE WEEKEND

THE BEST IN GREEK CUISINE, STAR STUDDED ENTERTAINMENT

AND FUN FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY by Anastasia E. Weaver

As the Christmas and New Year festivities ended and the holiday decorations were put away Spring seemed to blossom in Chicago. It was around that time of the year, that the Festival Committee co-chairs at St. Demetrios began their planning and organizing our 64th Annual Festival for August 2013. August seemed way off and plenty of time for the organization of this "really big party" for our families, neighbors and friends throughout the city. As preparations were taking place, and committees were being organized, we suddenly realized August had already arrived and only a few short weeks remained until we would open our doors for our guests. Time really seems to fly when you are busy working hard and at the same time enjoying what you are doing. We extend a cordial and warm invitation to all of you, bring your friends, your neighbors and family and join us in celebrating our parish's 85th Anniversary in this community with this 64th Annual Festival on August 16, 17, 18.

OUR HISTORY

St. Demetrios is located at 2727 West Winona Street in Chicago's Lincoln Square almost at the far northwest corner of the city as one embarks into Lincolnwood, Evanston and Skokie. We are nestled next to Swedish Covenant Hospital on a quiet residential street where St. Demetrios Church got its start in 1927. A small group of parish council members of the Annunciation Cathedral at 1017 N. La Salle Street, who were responsible for directing the affairs and destiny of one of the oldest Greek Orthodox church communities in Chicago, conceived the idea of a church school and chapel closer to their homes on the far north side of Chicago where the church now stands on Winona. This was a dream that took fruition and became a reality with the purchase of a property bounded by Carmen Avenue on the South, Washtenaw on the West and Winona Street on the North. They planned a school and chapel and in spite of the then difficult economic times it became a reality when they built the building on the property where our church now stands.

History somehow repeats itself every so often, as we all well know. During all the planning of this great edifice was taking place, the country was in the midst of the Great Depression years of the early 1930's but the spirit of these early founders was undaunted. They worked hard, using their own funds to support their idea of a School and Chapel on this property. At times, they had to sacrifice not only their own money but put in a great deal of personal labor carrying coal and doing many other tasks to maintain and support the building they had so lovingly built. On the corner of Carmen and Washtenaw still stands a beautiful two unit yellow brick building that was once the home of the two families that were part of the original parish council that envisioned the dream for the property on which St. Demetrios stands. They were some of the same people who loved this church so much they would be seen walking from their home with a small wagon carrying the coal that would be used to heat the building. This group established the Solon Greek School in 1928 which still exists and gives young people Greek language education and an opportunity to enhance their educational backgrounds as citizens of this country. In 1937 the Religious Education Program was begun at St. Demetrios and still flourishes today. In 1940 when the Depression years were finally put behind them, the Annunciation Cathedral and St. Demetrios Church reorganized under one community and became the United Greek Orthodox Churches of Chicago. In 1982, the membership of the United Community, in a special assembly, voted unanimously to dissolve, the United Greek Orthodox church and to allow Annunciation (the mother church) and St. Demetrios (the fledgling) to function as independent churches as is customary in the Metropolis. The historic decision took effect on January 1, 1983. During the 1980's and the 1990's many physical improvements were made to the original structure namely, the Byzantine Iconography in the church interior, the enlarged Narthex as you enter the church of St. Demetrios, the enclosed front staircase with its magnificent stained glass windows and the addition of an elevator, which has significantly enhanced the ability for elderly or handicapped parishioners and guests to access the church proper. Like any living entity, St. Demetrios is continuously striving to improve its structure and its services to its parishioners and the community. Since the mid-1990's into the present decade, St. Demetrios Church under the spiritual guidance and leadership of our Priest, Father Apostolos N. Georgiarentis and assistant Father Peter J. Sarolas, continues to make improvements to the aging structure and bring more of the Orthodox Iconography into the interior and establishing many spiritually enriching programs and activities for the parishioners and the children of the community. The parish council following in the footsteps of the original founders continues to strive to find ways to assist the parish clergy in funding the many improvements required in the aging structure. The mission has not changed. The St. Demetrios community being a living entity continues to grow in spirit and in beauty. It continues to serve faithfully the thousands who enter the doors every year and to provide the sacraments to its faithful as a part of the Metropolis of Chicago, which comprises six Midwestern states: Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Indiana, Missouri and Illinois, under the spiritual guidance of His Eminence Metropolitan Iakovos and Bishop Demetrios of Mokissos. We all recognize that our nation is still in difficult economic times that has affected many of our own faithful and community and has delayed in fact some of our dreams for improving our church facility for the time being. One thing is for sure, the spirit of our founders back in 1927 still runs deep in our community and everyone clergy, parish council members, church staff, parishioners young and not-so-young, friends of St. Demetrios and everyone surrounding this large family of St. Demetrios is pitching in to help whether it is with monetary donations or volunteering to serve in whatever is needed...and the love within this community is still shining ever so brightly onto the path of our future generations. We welcome you with open arms to our Festival 2013 and thank you in advance for sharing in our proud heritage and look forward to offering all our hospitality on August 16, 17, and 18.

Note: You may also be interested to know that our Patron Saint is St. Demetrios of Thessaloniki - also known as Salonika; a port city in the northern Macedonian region of Greece. In the "Myrovlitis" book store of our St. Demetrios Church you will find a book entitled "O God of Demetrios" which tells the the story of St. Demetrios a Saint revered by our church and our faithful. He is our inspiration for he had everything young people seek today -education, wealth, position, respect, athletic abilities, good looks, strength, popularity but most of all he was courageous, committed to the Lord and faithful.

OUR INCOMPARABLE GREEK CUISINE

Greg - grilling our famous Souvlakia

Come and Join us on August 16, 17, 18 for an incredible weekend of the best in Greek Cuisine. On our menu you will find some of the best Greek food around and some of the tastiest mouth watering pastries including a star-studded continuous three-day presentation of fabulous entertainment and we plan to greet you with the same warm hospitality that one finds in Greece. Our corner of the world may not be exactly the beautiful and sunny shores of Greece with its balmy warm weather or the cool breezes at night coming off the Mediterranean Sea, but for sure we will do our best to make your weekend with us a memorable event.

Our Greek Cuisine is a labor of love and although sometimes our recipes seem awfully long and time consuming, Greeks also consider their cuisine an art. It is not meant to be a fast food type cuisine but one that requires time and energy to prepare and the best in flavorful ingredients and seasonings with a touch of our personal love and enthusiasm. Just like the French start their meals whether large or small with the words Bon Appetit so the Greeks have always cared about the nutritional value of their food and love to cook so they use the words "Kali Orexi" ..Good Appetite. Of course, you would not traditionally hear any of us Greeks say Good Appetite in America but the Greeks in America continue to say "Kali Orexi" as we do too when we are sitting down to a meal. So we take this opportunity to wish all of you who venture to our Festival on August 16, 17, 18. "Kali Orexi". When you are ready for dinner, and who wouldn't be ready with all the wonderful aroma you will encounter, walk over to our FOOD TENT for a wonderful assortment of authentically prepared Greek dishes, which we create using the freshest and finest ingredients we can obtain and prepare right here in our church kitchen. We have a number of Chefs extra ordinaire in our parish who have long experience as restaurant entrepreneurs and enjoy cooking up a storm. You may want to enjoy our GRECIAN CHICKEN - marinated and seasoned with lemon, oregano and wine and served with the fluffiest rice pilaf. Or you may decide on the popular SOUVLAKI - succulent pork tenderloin shish-kabob which we marinate Greek-style with lemon, garlic, and oregano. Shish-kabob is a Turkish word. In ancient times, the Greek shepherds skewered pieces of meat and vegetables and cooked them over coals in the ground. They would then surround the spit and enjoy these morsels for the Gods. Remembers knives and forks were not always available, so it is okay to use your hands. Or why not try our ROASTED GREEK LEG OF LAMB - the lamb is marinated with cloves of garlic, salt and pepper, oregano, thyme, spearmint flakes, lemons and wine and roasted carefully until it melts in your mouth. Traditionally the roasting of lamb was always a man's job and still is today. You will find that the men of the household always are ready and proud to handle this job as they do here at St. Demetrios. Having eaten here so many times one realizes how well these chefs at St. Demetrios cook that is why it is fitting to call them CHEFS EXTRA ORDINAIRE

But there is more on our menu....Our GYROS is delicious and it is carved fresh - it is not packaged but freshly made throughout the day. Why not try our GREEK FRIES - sprinkled with Feta. You will not be able to stop eating them. I certainly can not. Or how about some GREEK BURGER SLIDERS....Yummy. Also on the menu for the entire weekend you will find CALAMARI - sprinkled with lemon and served with pilaf....awesome food

Perhaps it is PASTITSIO that will hit the spot...a macaroni and ground beef seasoned with salt and pepper, cinnamon, red wine and tomato sauce which is then topped with a rich cream sauce of eggs and milk and baked to perfection. Pastitsio is a favorite Greek family recipe for celebrations and holidays. This is truly what I mean about being a labor of love - the preparation of Pastitsio is indeed a total labor of love because it requires intensive labor to prepare but oh how delicious to eat. There is no doubt about it this is truly comfort food and awesome eating.

In the FOOD TENT this year you will also find

Chris, John and Nick grilling delicious Greek Style chickens

Greek Salad

SPANAKOPITA (SPINACH PIE) YES It is not bought - it is homemade and it is our Greek style Spinach Pie, which we prepare with fresh spinach, feta cheese, green onions and seasonings of the Greek cuisine and bake it in crispy Filo crust. We will also serve TYROPITA - home made Greek style Cheese pie in crispy filo crust in the Food Tent all weekend.

Since the Mediterranean Cuisine is abundant with fresh vegetables - try our GREEK SALAD if you wish, which we prepare with all freshly tossed salad greens seasoned with our Greek dressing of olive oil, wine vinegar sprinkled with oregano and garnished with feta cheese and Greek olives and anchovies. A meal in itself. You can enjoy this wonderful meal under the BIG TENT or in the AIR-CONDITIONED Miller Center.

No Greek meal stops with the food alone. A must have at our Festival are the plethora of home made pastries which are all hand made right here in our kitchens. Visit our PASTRY TENTS where you will find the best Greek Pastries made with recipes that have been prized by our families You will find pastries both on the grounds and in the MILLER CENTER. The choices are innumerable. All our Pastries are prepared by hand right here at St. Demetrios and Yes we make our own BAKLAVA and more. All pastries like our food is made from scratch. You can also take a box home to enjoy the next day while you reminisce about the wonderful weekend of fun you have had with us. Also don't forget our now famous LOUKOUMADES (puff pastry) made from scratch, sprinkled with honey and cinnamon and served warm continuously throughout the three days.

When you pick up your mouth-watering pastries why not walk over to our KAFENIO (Coffee House)...ask one of our charming hostesses to make you a cup of GREEK COFFEE perhaps Metrio...and enjoy for the first time the ambrosia of this wonderful cup of coffee. New research is floating around indicating that drinking GREEK COFFEE may be related to longevity. If you don't feel adventurous then plain American Coffee is available for you. My favorite is always the FRAPPE! If you have never tried this coffee do so. It is unforgettable! Nothing like it especially on a hot humid night, which may be the case for us on August 16, 17, 18. The Kafenio also serves Milk Shakes, Lemonade, Ice Cream, Bottled Water and Watermelon.

Last but not least in our preparation for this GREAT FESTIVAL, you will want to stop by our BEVERAGE BARS - one is located on the grounds (Carmen Avenue Side) and one in our air-conditioned MILLER CENTER. There you will find most every beverage that might suit your taste for the evenings you are with us...cokes, water, wine, or any other beverage your taste buds call for. The two beverage bars are manned by the esteemed members of our Parish Council as well as other volunteers from our community. JUST ASK FOR DINO or TONY and they or any one of their helpers will help you with a smile and perhaps a joke or two very much like our founders back in 1927.. We seem to follow in each others foot steps here at St. Demetrios....which is not too bad a thing to do. We have so much fun doing it.

TRADITIONAL GREEK RECIPES

ROAST LEG OF LAMB

Leg of Lamb has to be my very favorite of the red meats. It is served in different ways for different occasions. For a general small family or friends gathering, purchase a leg of lamb weighing about 5 to 6 pounds. When I serve it for Easter (Pascha) dinner or larger family gatherings of 12 or more, I purchase a leg of lamb weighing about 10 pounds. From my experience, I always make sure that I purchase USA lamb from Colorado as opposed to imported lamb. I like the taste much better. Serves Six:

1 leg of Lamb 5 to 6 pounds	juice of 1 lemon
Salt and pepper	½ cup of olive oil
5 garlic cloves, slivered.	White Wine
1 or 2 tablespoons of Oregano	½ cup melted unsalted butter
1 teaspoon of thyme	Potatoes - I use about 7 or 8 Yukon Gold Potatoes

Wash and pat dry the leg of lamb and place in a roasting pan. Sliver the garlic. There are two methods of using the garlic with the lamb. You can rub crushed garlic onto the entire leg of lamb or make small slits with a knife and insert the slivered pieces of garlic into the lamb. I usually insert the slivered pieces of garlic in the leg of lamb. Mix the oregano and thyme and rub over all sides of the leg of lamb. In a bowl or mixing cup mix the juice from 1 lemon, the wine and the olive oil and pour over the lamb making sure the lamb is completely covered. Cover with foil wrap and place in the refrigerator to marinate the lamb for several hours. Roast lamb at 350 degrees for about 1-1/2 hours if you like pink meat and about 2 hours if you prefer well done. Most Greeks prefer the well done meat.

While roasting baste frequently with a mixture of ½ cup white wine and the melted butter and pour some hot water (about 1 cup) into the pan. An hour before the roast is done peel and cut each potato into four length-wise pieces and surround the lamb with the potatoes. Sprinkle the potatoes with pepper, oregano and a little salt as well as lemon juice. Continue to baste after the potatoes have been put in the roasting pan and turn the potatoes to make sure they brown on all sides. Complete your meal with zucchini or green beans sauteed with onions in tomato sauce, a Greek salad of tomatoes, onions, cucumbers, feta cheese and Kalamata olives and sprinkle with oregano and a dressing of extra virgin olive oil and red wine vinegar. Of course, if it is available to you, leg of lamb is absolutely delicious when roasted on a spit over charcoal. You may also ask your butcher to have the leg of lamb boned and rolled, it is easier to slice and handle after roasting in the oven. KALI OREXI! (Bon Appetit) Enjoy!

CABBAGE ROLL CASSEROLE

1 cabbage head
 ½ lb ground sirloin
 ¼ cup Uncle Ben's white rice
 ½ Vidalia onion - chopped
 2 large Yukon gold potatoes
 1 (8 oz cans) Hunt's no salt added Tomato Sauce
 1 or 2 cloves of garlic, chopped
 Salt and pepper to taste
 1 tsp of dry Greek oregano
 ¼ cup of chopped fresh parsley
 2 to 3 Tbsp. Olive oil

Saute the ground sirloin with the chopped Vidalia onion and garlic, salt, pepper, and fresh parsley.. When the meat is browned add one can of tomato sauce. Cook for a few minutes. Add the rice. Simmer for several minutes until the rice is partially done. Place the mixture to the side. Boil salted water in a large pot. Separate cabbage leaves about 6 to 8 depending on how many cabbage rolls you would like to make. Place cabbage leaves in the boiling water and cook until the leaves are tender which should be in just a few minutes..

Take each cabbage leaf and place 2 or 3 tablespoons of meat mixture in the center. Fold into a small roll. Tuck the sides under and place each in a 10 x 7 inch casserole dish. Peel and cut potatoes in half or quarters. Place the potatoes between the cabbage rolls in the casserole dish. Pour the other can of tomato sauce over the cabbage rolls and potatoes and dribble with olive oil. Add a ¼ to ½ cup of water to the pan. Sprinkle cabbage rolls and potatoes with salt, pepper, chopped parsley and oregano to taste. Cover the casserole dish with aluminum foil and bake for about 1-1/2 hours in a 350 degree oven. Remove the aluminum foil about 15 to 20 minutes before the casserole is finished cooking.

Serve this delicious dish with a Greek salad, Greek feta cheese and Kalamata olives and you have a complete meal. Serves 2 to 3 people.

| ½ tsp. garlic powder                                      | Salt & pepper                         |
| 1/3 cup dry bread crumbs                                  | 12 oz. uncooked tri-color penne pasta |
| 2 cups prepared pasta sauce                               |                                       |

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Spray a jelly roll pan with nonstick spray. In medium bowl, combine ground beef, sausage, spinach, egg, onion & garlic powder, seasonings, bread crumbs, salt & pepper; with your hands mix until well combined. Form into balls about the size of a pingpong ball. Place meatballs on jelly roll pan and bake 25 minutes. With a spatula or tongs, turn meatballs over & cook another 10-20 minutes until nicely browned. While meatballs cook, prepare the pasta according to package directions, drain & keep warm. In large skillet or sauce pan, add the pasta sauce. When meatballs are fully cooked, transfer from oven into sauce & cook over medium heat 6-8 minutes. Serve meatballs and sauce over pasta. Top with grated Parmesan cheese. Serves 4-6.

Joint Tenancy, a Will or a Trust? What's the Best Way to Plan Your Estate?

Chester M. Przybylo

Only the woefully uninformed believe that Intestate Probate, also known as "the government's estate plan for you if you don't have your own," is preferable to creating your own estate plan.

The problem is that newspapers, magazines, and other media often present conflicting views on whether it is best to choose joint tenancy, a will or a trust as your estate planning vehicle. Who's telling the truth?

Let's take a look at the three fundamental goals of an effective estate plan:

(1) Transferring your property to those you designate in a timely and efficient fashion,

(2) Providing for management of your property if you are physically or mentally unable to do so yourself, and

(3) Minimizing the amount of estate taxes imposed by the government as your property passes to succeeding generations.

Now that you know what an estate plan is supposed to accomplish, you can see how the "Big Three" estate planning vehicles stack up. Joint Tenancy is frequently thought of as a "poor man's will" because the asset transfers automatically upon death to the people named on the title.

What this technique offers in convenience it loses in protection. Consider the case of Dorothy Schmit vs. the Internal Revenue Service. Mrs. Schmit put her husband, who happened to be delinquent in his taxes, on "her" property as a joint tenant for convenience. Mrs. Schmit had to sue all the way to the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals, an expensive proposition, to get the IRS to finally accept the "nominal" status of her husband.

Both wills and living trusts are more sophisticated ways of transferring property to your heirs. The primary difference between wills and trusts is that wills require a probate administration that can add time and costs to the disposition of your estate. This is true even in the "simplified probate" procedures available in many states. At the margin, avoiding the additional costs and publicity of probate by the use of a living trust is preferable.

If the issue of property management during a property owner's incapacity arises, both a properly prepared will or trust-based estate plan will have a durable power of attorney which enables someone you have chosen to manage your property. However, a living trust offers additional "substitute management" in the person of a successor trustee for assets in a living trust. Handling property management with a living trust can be of great help because many financial institutions and insurance companies are hesitant to accept durable powers of attorney, but are comfortable with successor trustee management.

In summary, the living trust's avoidance of probate and the protection of the successor trustee in the case of incapacity are strong reasons to consider a trust-based estate plan.

In deciding which estate planning strategy will work best for you, the best course of action is to seek the assistance of an attorney whose practice is focused on estate planning. Members of the American Academy of Estate Planning Attorneys receive continuing education on the latest changes in laws that affect estate planning, allowing them to provide the highest quality service.

*Chester M. Przybylo has been elected to the Board of Governors of the prestigious American Academy of Estate Planning Attorneys and has been engaged in the practice of law for the last 40 years. ## German-American Club of Pensioners

This Club meets every first Tuesday of the month (except in July and January) at 11:00 am at the Chicago Brauhaus, 4732 N. Lincoln Avenue in Lincoln Square, which is still the German-American Center of Chicago. It has existed for many years, and its members look forward to the meetings as they have made many friends during that time. Membership is open to all interested German-American Seniors, and the annual dues are only $10.00. The tickets for the luncheon are $15.00 per person. New members are always welcome.

President Hildegard Haenisch calls the meeting to order and asks everyone to join in singing the first verse of "Grosser Gott, wir loben dich" (Holy God, we praise Thy Name). This is a tradition, a musical grace, which was started by Mrs. Haenisch's predecessor, Marianne Martynowicz, who unfortunately passed away. While the waitresses begin serving the meal consisting of soup or salad, the main course, which is the same for everyone and features one of the Brauhaus specials such as meatloaf, goulash, roast pork, stuffed cabbage, etc., bread and butter, coffee and freshly-baked apple strudel for dessert. Accordionist Max provides the dinner music and always plays some songs that are old favorites of the seniors, and they love to sing along. Before you know it, there are couples on the dance floor, as many of them also love to dance. All along, raffle tickets are being sold for some lovely prizes, donated by members and friends, as well as bottles of imported wine. The proceeds from the raffle help to offset the expenses involved with the meetings. Every so often, there will be special musical groups that come to entertain the Club of the Pensioners. During the course of the year, special occasions, such Christmas and Easter, Mother's Day and Father's Day, will be celebrated. In addition, members will be asked to dress up for events such as Mardi Gras or dig out their Hawaiian or Halloween costumes. This bunch knows how to have fun! Men and women bring in their jokes to make everyone laugh. As you know, "laughter is the best medicine for body, mind and spirit." Of course, birthdays and anniversaries are celebrated as well, and we also remember those who have health problems and members who have passed away, for whom a moment of silence is observed.

While people are enjoying their meal, Mrs. Haenisch will make some announcements, such as upcoming events by the various German-American Clubs and also reminds everyone to read the EINTRACHT, Chicago's German Newspaper.

For more information, please call Mrs. Haenisch at 773-478-8033, or just show up at one of the meetings and speak to her in person. She is either seated at the "Stammtisch," near the raffle table, or roaming around the restaurant to chit chat with her friends. Submitted by Maria Bappert

NATIONAL VETERANS ART MUSEUM TO HOST EDUCATION OPEN HOUSE

The National Veterans Art Museum will unveil a new season of educational programming, including a brand new interactive website

On Saturday, August 17, 2013, from 1 p.m. - 5 p.m., the National Veterans Art Museum (NVAM) will host an education open house to introduce students, teachers, administrators and parents to a wide range of new educational offerings and new museum partnerships to enhance programming. The event will also mark the public debut of The Things They Carried Interactive, a new, interactive, student-facing website that uses art and artifacts to teach history and civics.

The day's events will include Chicago Summer of Learning badge earning stations, guided tours of current exhibits, educator tours of online and on-site educational tools, artist talks, information and sign-up stations for field trips and student tours, a chance to tour the McCormick Foundation's Freedom Express, and the launch of The Things They Carried Interactive.

The Things They Carried Interactive is a brand new website dedicated to expanding the educational potential of the museum's popular The Things They Carried exhibit, inspired by Tim O'Brien's book of the same name. The Things They Carried is required reading in the majority of schools nationwide, and The Things They Carried Interactive is designed to make this art and artifact-rich interactive website to student learners unable to visit the museum in person. The Things They Carried Interactive links images of art and artifacts to veteran interviews and literature to teach civics and history.

About the event, NVAM Education Coordinator Christine Bepalec-Davis says, "We are excited to share our expanded programming and partnership with the public. The Things They Carried Interactive is an important step into digital media learning and one that makes the experience of the Vietnam War palpable and accessible to a new generation of learners."

NVAM Executive Director Levi Moore added, "For the 2013-2014 school year, the NVAM is pleased to expand its partnerships, including collaborative relationships with the Veterans History Project-Student Edition, YOUmedia, the McCormick Foundation, and Chicago Public Schools. We believe these partnerships will enable us to expand our educational outreach tremendously, benefiting students, teachers, and parents alike."

Travis Bickford, Executive Director of the Veterans History Project-Student Edition, celebrated the partnership between the NVAM and the youth-driven Veterans History Project, which teaches students journalism and editing skills, documents interviews with veterans, and submits the interviews to the Library of Congress. Bickford states, "The NVAM's open house this August is an incredible opportunity for everyone—students, educators, administrators and parents—to see how the NVAM can be a site of exciting arts, history and civics learning. We are happy to make this partnership and to continue to expand our offerings to student learners."
