Skokie Celebrates Arbor Day by Planting Terezin Trees

Skokie has been designated as a Tree City since 1985 and each year the Village and the Skokie Park District co-sponsor an Arbor Day tree planting ceremony. This year's Arbor Day ceremony is Thursday, April 27 at 10 a.m. at Niles West High School, and the entire community is invited to attend this family-friendly event. The Illinois Holocaust Museum & Education Center (ILHMEC) is donating three maple Terezin trees to the Village for the 2017 Arbor Day plantings. The Terezin trees are named as such because they originate from a tree planted by children held in the Terezin concentration camp in Czechoslovakia during World War II. To date, saplings from the original tree have been planted in some 600 locations throughout the world in memory of the children from Terezin.

In 2005, a delegation from the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago, while visiting Terezin, received a sapling from the original tree. The delegation gave the sapling to the Chicago Botanic Gardens where it was cared for until the ILHMEC was complete. On May 7, 2009, the Terezin tree was planted at the ILHMEC and it stands in front of the museum as a living, growing, thriving symbol of the Jewish people's resilience - a tree of life. The three saplings being planted during Arbor Day 2017 came from the ILHMEC Terezin tree. In addition to the April 27 Arbor Day tree planting ceremony at Niles West, ceremonies will be held at Niles North High School and Ida Crown Jewish Academy earlier in the month.

The Arbor Day ceremony is hosted by the Skokie Park District, the Village of Skokie and the Village's Beautification and Improvement Commission.

Norwood Park Resident Appears Before Illinois House Committee To Boost “Illinois”—Official State Song

Norwood Park resident and author Stan “Tex” Banash (left) appeared recently with State Rep. Michael P. McAuliffe (R-20th) before the Museums, Arts and Cultural Enhancement Committee in Springfield in support of HR184 to encourage and expand the playing of the Official State Song, “Illinois,” during official public events at state universities and at state sponsored government functions. In his testimony, Banash noted that Illinois will celebrate its bicentennial in 2018 yet “very few (people) can hum its (the song’s) melody” and “even fewer know we have a state song.” Banash said that Illinois schools teach little about state history “and even less about its many achievements and its historical importance at the geographical crossroads of a great nation.” He added that the state song is part of our foundation as a state--“a foundation that should instill pride in each resident, but to have pride, our residents must know we have a state song...must know how to recognize its melody...and must desire to hear it at official events...In doing so, (we) build state pride--an important ingredient in celebrating our 200th anniversary” and in being proud Illinoisans. The resolution is now in the Illinois House where it will be considered for passage in coming weeks. Banash is the author of the book, Roadside History of Illinois, and promotes Illinois pride at his many public appearances around the state.

Tony Award Winning Equus Comes To Skokie Theatre

By Wayne Mell, Artistic Director

One of the most provocative plays in modern drama is heading to the Skokie stage. Peter Shaffer's Tony Award winning Equus will be performed for nine performances from April 21 to May 6. Critics consider this to be a timeless classic and one of the greatest plays from the contemporary theatre, but it is not for the faint of heart. Due to nudity and controversial material, the show is recommended for mature audiences only.

Equus is Peter Shaffer's exploration of the way modern society has destroyed our ability to feel passion.

Alan Strang is a disturbed youth whose dangerous obsession with horses leads him to commit an unspeakable act of violence. As psychiatrist Martin Dysart struggles to understand the motivation for Alan Strang's brutality, he is increasingly drawn into Alan Strang's web and eventually forced to question his own sanity. Although the play is fictional, it was based on a true incident. In 1973, Shaffer read a newspaper headline about a stable boy who blinded six horses. Equus was the story Shaffer created in his mind to explain such a horrible event.

The play premiered in 1975 and won most of the coveted awards including the Tony Award for Best Play, the Drama Desk Award for Outstanding New Foreign Play (having come from England), and the New York Drama Critics' Circle Award for Best Play. Actors Peter Firth and Frances Sternhagen were both nominated for Tony Awards for their performances. In 2009, Equus was revived on Broadway with Daniel Radcliffe from the Harry Potter movies. He was also nominated for a Tony Award for Best Actor.

It was made into a film in 1977 starring Richard Burton, Peter Firth, Joan Plowright, and Jenny Agutter.

In Skokie, the role of Alan is played by Justin Dietzel, a Chicago actor who is the artistic director of the Beat Theatre Collective. Vincent Mahler takes on the reigns as the psychiatrist Dr. Dysart. They are joined by Chicago favorites Joan McGrath and Rebecca Joy Fletcher as well as Tom Carr, Evan Cullinan, Brian Hoffman, Kearstyn Keller, and Alexandria Pelletier.

Performances are April 21 – May 6. Fridays and Saturdays at 7:30 pm, Sundays at 2 pm, with a weekend matinee on Wednesday, April 26 at 1:30 pm. Tickets are $34, with a senior price of $29 and a student price of $24. Call 847-677- 7761 or visit SkokieTheatre.org for reservations.

Roadside History of Illinois

This is the fourth in a series of monthly short articles about places in Chicago, nearby suburbs and beyond that can be visited by those who seek to learn more about local history. The articles are partial excerpts from the book, Roadside History of Illinois (Mountain Press, 2013), by Chicago author and Illinois native Stan Banash.

John Deere and the Deere Home Site in Grand Detour

A small unincorporated village outside Chicago's collar counties is Grand Detour, about 110 miles west of Chicago in Lee County. It is best known as the home of John Deere, who obtained the first patent for a self-scouring steel-bladed plow. While Deere is often credited with inventing the steel plow, Will County farmer John Lane, Sr. (see last month's column) created one several years before, but he never applied for a patent. Therefore, it was Deere's design that revolutionized farming, and Deere whose name became synonymous with innovative agricultural machinery and remains so to this day.

John Deere, whose mechanical genius contributed immensely to agricultural expansion in the Midwest and West, was born on February 7, 1804, in Rutland, Vermont. He grew up there and began his career as a blacksmith. Having tried and failed several times to open his own shop, in November 1836 Deere moved to Grand Detour, where he had heard there was a shortage of blacksmiths. Two days after arriving, he built a forge and opened for business. The following summer, after establishing his blacksmith shop and building a three-room cottage, he sent for his wife and five children to join him.

At the time, most plows had wooden or cast-iron blades, or moldboards, to break through the prairie crust and reach the rich black soil. But these plows did not do their job cleanly. Dirt clung to the moldboard, requiring the operator to stop every several feet and scrape it. Deere decided to use his blacksmith skills to try to solve the problem. Working with old discarded saw blades, Deere experimented until he came up with a successful design for a "self-polishing" plow in 1837. He produced only ten plows in the first year, most of which he sold to local farmers. By the end of 1842, his output had reached one hundred.

In the spring of 1843, Deere teamed up with a neighbor, fellow Vermonter Leonard Andrus. The partners built a factory on the Rock River and imported special rolled steel from England to produce over 1,000 plows. Deere dissolved the partnership in 1848, when he moved his operations to Moline, seventy-five miles southwest, where better transportation was available. By that time he had taken on two new partners, John Gould and Robert N. Tate, to form Deere, Tate & Gould. In 1853 Deere bought out his partners, renaming the company John Deere, Manufacturer.

In 1858 Deere transferred his interest in the company to his son, 21-year old Charles, while remaining the president. The business incorporated 10 years later as Deere & Company. Today Deere & Company—better known as John Deere—is the world's largest manufacturer of agricultural and forestry equipment and related products.

John Deere died in Moline on May 17, 1886, at age 82. He is buried at Riverside Cemetery. Deere's 1836 Grand Detour home and replica shop are now open to the public as the John Deere Historic Site.

Planning a visit? Why not tie it to one of the special events held at the John Deere Historic Site in Grand Detour during the summer and fall. # What's in a Word?

Chester M. Przybylo

We use words every day without much thought. Words can have different meaning in different contexts. Sometimes this “play on words” can give rise to humor. In fact, comedian George Carlin based his career on the subtleties in the usage of language. Carlin became famous for the “Seven Dirty Words” skit detailing the words that were prohibited in broadcast media. In fact, Carlin’s skit was the subject of a U.S. Supreme Court Case which clarified the boundary between free speech and obscenity. Carlin often pointed out apparent oxymorons like “jumbo shrimp” or “military intelligence.” George Carlin died recently, at age 71.

Like George Carlin, an attorney who focuses his or her practice in estate planning understands that subtleties in the language used can make a big difference. An example of the reason for the complexity of language in estate planning matters is the “Rule Against Perpetuities” which can invalidate a gift or other transfer in a Will or Trust if not done the right way.

Relax, you do not need to try to figure out what “the Rule” is and how it applies. In fact, the rules involved in estate planning are so complex that a court found “. . . few, if any, areas of the law have been fraught with more confusion or concealed more traps for the unwary draftsman . . . .”

If your daughter needed her appendix removed, would you read up online to perform the procedure yourself? Would you get out your knife and wet-stone and start sharpening? Would you take her to the dentist? Well, of course not. In fact, while the possibility is laughable; the reality would be tragic.

The same holds true in estate planning. Just as your daughter is relying on you to bring her to a good surgeon to remove her appendix, your children are also counting on you to plan your estate properly. Just as your daughter’s life could be at stake in the appendectomy, your children’s livelihood and well being could be at stake with the estate plan. A poorly drafted estate plan can wreak havoc on relationships, as well as assets. If you don’t plan your estate properly, it would be almost as obscene as George Carlin’s famous “Seven Dirty Words.”

A qualified estate planning attorney who focuses his or her practice in estate planning can ensure your wishes are carried out smoothly and effectively. Chester M. Przybylo has been elected to the Board of Governors of the prestigious American Academy of Estate Planning Attorneys and has been engaged in the practice of law for the last 45 years. To register for an upcoming seminar, call the 24 hour reservation hotline at 1-800-638-7878 or register online at www.PlanOurEstate.com.

In preparation for prom season, Resurrection College Prep High School hosted the Anne Bleicher Operation Prom program on April 20, 2017. Operation Prom is a dramatic educational program that demonstrates the tragic effects of driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs. Junior and senior students at Resurrection witnessed a simulated fatal car crash in the parking lot at Resurrection College Prep, complete with emergency response vehicles, paramedics and student actors playing the roles of injured and emotional teens. The actors included Resurrection students Nell Riordan '17, Sophia Acevedo '17, Nicole Le Boeuf '17, Alyssa Czachor '17 and St. Patrick students Joe Hansen and Mike Valicento. Operation Prom is hosted every two years at Resurrection to educate students about making responsible driving decisions and all juniors and seniors have seen this presentation since 1999.

Emergency Department Physician Dr. Halleh Akbarnia, Chicago Police Department Commander Bay, Adams Winterfield & Sullivan Funeral Home staff member Cathy Wall Notariano, Operation Prom Program Director and Resurrection alumna Jennifer Bleicher Matthiessen and Resurrection alumna parent speaker Liane Bania.

Following the crash simulation, the students gathered in the Resurrection College Prep Little Theater to hear guest speakers address the real life impact of driving under the influence. Speakers included Chicago 16th District Police Department Commander William Looney, Chicago Fire Department Chief Charles Roy, Nurse Practitioner and Trauma Program Manager Jhoanna Gulmatico, Emergency Physician Dr. Halleh Akbarnia, Resurrection alumna parent Liane Bania and Adams Winterfield & Sullivan Funeral Home staff member Cathy Wall Notariano. Students heard not only the statistics about impaired driving, but also the emotional, physical and financial toll on the families of victims and drivers. The program also touched on the dangers of distracted driving due to texting and cell phone use. Video presentations by current Resurrection parents Michelle Witzak and Gina O’Hehir also urged students to be safe while enjoying their prom season.

Resurrection Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD) Club helped to facilitate the program, including SADD President Anneliese Daley and Officers Kelly Barone '17, Brittany Baldassin '17, Alyssa Galiardo '17 and Kate Galiardo '17. The Anne Bleicher Operation Prom Program Director is Resurrection alumna Jennifer Bleicher Matthiessen '03 who has been involved in the program at Resurrection since 1999. The program was started by Jennifer’s mother, deceased Resurrection alumna Anne Brown Bleicher '75, and has been continued by her five daughters. For information about

Baked Cocktail Meatballs In Cranberry Sauce

The following recipe is from my good friend Eleanor who told me she recently served them at a family celebration. Everybody loved them ...

Ingredients for the meatballs:

2 lbs. ground meat (beef or turkey),
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs,
1 pkg. Lipton onion soup mix and 3 eggs.
Mix and shape into meatballs – small balls if you plan to serve them for cocktails or larger for a family meal. Bake on cookie sheet about 20 minutes at 325 to 350 degrees.

Ingredients for the sauce:

1 – 16 oz (500 ml) chili sauce (look for Bennettes available at the Jewel),
1 bottle of water, 1 cup light brown sugar,
1 cup drained sauerkraut and 1 can whole cranberry sauce (2 cup size).
Mix together and simmer for 20 minutes. Then put baked meatballs in a baking dish and pour sauce over all. Bake, uncovered, at 350 degrees for 1-1/2 to 2 hours. Set out toothpicks if serving with cocktails. If you plan to serve it as a main dish for your family or for guests, Eleanor suggests side dishes of mashed potatoes, zucchini or squash noodles, which are also available at the Jewel, or your choice of a vegetable. Bon appétit!

Ready, Set...Strut For Strays

The Strut for Strays, C.A.R.E.'s 22nd annual spring fund-raising dogs-plus-people walkathon, will step off from the Evanston Subaru in Skokie, 3340 Oakton Street, Skokie, the morning of Saturday, May 13. The Strut will be led by Grand Marshal Christian Stolte, a Skokie-based animal lover who also stars in the popular TV show Chicago Fire.

Strut For Strays donations help pay for the care of the dogs, cats, kittens, and puppies that are being rescued and rehomed by Community Animal Rescue Effort volunteers.

"C.A.R.E. spends about $300 on veterinary care and checkups for each dog or cat we rehome, while puppies and kittens average $500 per animal," says C.A.R.E. President Linda Gelb. "We hope each Strut participant will raise enough money to sponsor at least one of our animals."

As special incentive, the 2017 Strut's top fundraiser will win a new bicycle from The Pony Shop, a bicycle store in Evanston.

Who should 'Strut'? We're seeking fun-loving people, with or without canine companions, who want to be part of saving and finding forever homes for stray and unwanted dogs and cats. Although cats and other pets are not allowed, participants are encouraged to run or walk in honor of a favorite animal friend.

People who want to support C.A.R.E., but cannot participate in the actual Strut for Strays event can fundraise as a Struttin' Sponsor from the comfort of their own homes.

The Strut's $35 advance registration donation ($40 on event day) qualifies participants for entry plus a Strut for Strays Goodie Bag. A $50 or higher donation qualifies for entry to event, the Strut for Strays T-shirt and Goodie Bag.

The Strut registration booth will open at 8:45 a.m. At 9:30 a.m., people and dogs will begin the 2.5-mile course north along McCormick Boulevard to Dempster and back. The route will take Strutters past the colorful artwork dotting the Skokie Northshore Sculpture Park.

Because of Chicago's unpredictable weather, participants are encouraged to bundle up accordingly. The Strut will take place rain or shine. Plenty of refreshments will be provided for both people and pups.

Sponsors of C.A.R.E.'s 2017 Strut For Strays include Dog Obedience Group, Evanston Subaru in Skokie, Hub's Restaurant, The Pony Shop, Tails Pet Magazine, Village Inn Pizzeria Sports Bar & Grill as well as first-time sponsors Golf-Mil Veterinary Hospital and Bill's Plumbing & Sewer.

Strut 2017 participants are encouraged to pre-register online and create a personalized fund-raising page on C.A.R.E.'s First Giving site, firstgiving.com/CAREevanston/Strut2017. Strut registration forms can also be downloaded from C.A.R.E.'s website, CARENorthshore.org/strut.
