Spend Locally and Save!

It is possible to pinch pennies and still have a good time! One easy way to trim budget bulge is to dine, shop, and play in our own neighborhood. A visit to your favorite local boutique, bowling alley, movie theater, and restaurant saves gas money and is more affordable than a trek to a downtown counterpart. Best of all, spending locally is a vote of confidence and an investment in the future health of our neighborhoods.

National Wildlife Federation Help a Wildlife-Friendly Stimulus Package Become Law

Currently, the Senate is considering whether to cut important funding for wildlife from their version of the economic stimulus bill.

Your actions helped ensure that the U.S. House passed green economic recovery legislation last week, but now we need to make sure the U.S. Senate passes equally strong legislation.

Green Education is on the Agenda

Economic and education experts recently joined the National Wildlife Federation to push for investments from the economic stimulus package that would repower America with green education, green jobs and green schools.

"With its infrastructure already well established across American communities, the education system is by definition shovel-ready. That's why we're urging an $11.3 billion investment for green schools and colleges, environmental education and green job training in America's classrooms to create more than 250,000 jobs in the short-term and ensure long-term economic growth," said Heather White, Director of Education Advocacy for the National Wildlife Federation.

Legends of the Lake

by Tracy Seglin

Ever wonder about those lonely looking buildings in the lake, so far from shore?

Our drinking water comes from Lake Michigan – the source is miles out and hundreds of feet deep. Water cribs, the buildings you see, protect the water from pollution at the intake point.

Lake Michigan Crib Sheet
Why are they called “cribs”?

Like a baby’s crib, these structures are designed to surround, protect, and keep precious contents from harm.

When was the first one built? Completed in 1867, the “Two-Mile Crib” was located – you guessed it – two miles offshore. The underwater tunnel was five feet wide and lined with brick. The structure was replaced in 1900, and several others were built since, including at Wilson Avenue and 68th Street.

Crib Tragedy. Chicago’s history is inextricably linked with fire, even on our waterways. On January 20, 1909, a blaze killed at least 50 workers in a temporary crib located one and a half miles from shore at 68th Street. The structure provided underwater access and housed the tools and dynamite used to excavate the new filtration tunnel. An early morning explosion rocked the crib and the wooden building was quickly consumed by flames. Brutal winter conditions likely made matters worse: boat rescue efforts were slowed by ice and those who were able to escape the burning building faced death from hypothermia. Work resumed in the spring and the 68th Street Crib stands today.

Is anyone out there? Not anymore. Crib tenders used to live and work in the water cribs, replete with kitchen and many modern conveniences. Each crew of four would work a one-week shift. Now much of the maintenance and water quality testing has been automated.

Urban Wildlife Coalition

Helping Birds During Spring Migration

Chicago is one stop on a bird migration route known as the Mississippi Flyway, extending from northwest Canada, along the Great Lakes, south to the Mississippi River Valley. More than five million birds representing upwards of 250 species are expected to pass through our area this spring.

Unfortunately, each year thousands of birds collide with city windows, where they fall to the ground stunned and unconscious. With timely treatment, more than 80% of these injured birds can be saved and released back to the wild. Urban Wildlife Coalition works closely with Flint Creek Wildlife Rehabilitation, a state- and federally-licensed facility dedicated to rehabilitating injured and orphaned wildlife.

Volunteers are urgently needed during the upcoming spring migration (begins around March 15). A few hours one morning a week can save hundreds of avian lives. Training is provided. For more information, please visit www.flintcreekwildlife.org/volunteer.htm or phone 847-842-8000.

In the meantime, if you find an injured or orphaned bird:
Place the bird in a paper bag with a folded paper towel at the bottom. Secure the bag with a clip.

Place the bag in a dark, quiet location and phone the number above (enter this number into your cellular phone for quick emergency access)

Do not give the bird food, water, or try to provide medical care which may cause further injury.

Injured birds can be dropped off at Flint Creek’s Northerly Island facility daily between 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. (visit www.flintcreek-wildlife.org for directions).

Urban Wildlife Coalition is a community-based organization founded to help preserve our treasured urban wildlife. For more information about urban animals and tips for living in harmony with them, visit www.urbanwildlifecoalition.org. Questions? Call 773-545-8136 or e-mail us at urbanwildlifecoalition@gmail.com.

Evanston to Host TV and Electronics Recycling Event

If you can’t repair, refurbish, or reuse an old home electronic device, the next best thing is to recycle it. The City of Evanston’s Streets & Sanitation Division, in partnership with Samsung, CRT Processing LLC and Home Depot, will collect television sets, computers and electronic equipment for recycling at a one-day event on Saturday, March 14, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. It will be held in James Park, at Dodge Ave. and Oakton St.

Evanston residents, along with SWANCC member community residents, are asked to help protect the environment by taking advantage of this event sponsored by Samsung. Residential use of electronic products has grown substantially over the past two decades. According to the Consumer Electronics Association (CEA), Americans own approximately 24 electronic products per household. Recycling used electronic equipment recovers resources for reuse and recycling and also prevents hazardous components such as lead, cadmium and mercury from leaching out of landfills and polluting our environment.

Electronic waste collected at the March 14th event will be processed by CRT Processing LLC. Located in Janesville, WI, CRT has a combined 40 years experience in recycling, data security, environmental compliance and asset management.

The City of Evanston will use a large number of volunteers to help staff the event. The Home Depot in Evanston is partnering with the City as an event sponsor by providing volunteers to help direct traffic and unload equipment from residents’ vehicles.

Electronic materials that may be recycled include television sets (all sizes), computer monitors, personal computers, printers, scanners, fax machines, calculators, cell phones, keyboards & mice, microwaves, radios, stereos, telephones, DVD and CD players and VCRs.

Residents are asked to not bring any white goods (ex. air conditioners, dehumidifiers, refrigerators), batteries, car parts, chemicals, light bulbs, hazardous waste, scrap metal or tires.

This event is for residential electronic waste collection only. Participation is limited to SWANCC member communities; a current city sticker or valid driver’s license will be required for entry. The SWANCC member communities are: Village of Arlington Heights, Village of Barrington, Village of Buffalo Grove, Village of Elk Grove Village, City of Evanston, Village of Glencoe, Village of Glenview, Village of Hoffman Estates, Village of Inverness, Village of Kenilworth, Village of Lincolnwood, Village of Morton Grove Village of Mount Prospect, Village of Niles, Village of Palatine, City of Park Ridge, City of Prospect Heights, City of Rolling Meadows, Village of Skokie, Village of South Barrington, Village of Wheeling, Village of Wilmette and the Village of Winnetka.

Evanston Public Library

1703 Orrington Ave.
847-448-8610

As part of Teen Tech Week at the Evanston Public Library, old computer parts will be used to make a variety of jewelry items including earrings, bracelets and necklaces. Finally, here’s another good use for the delete key. Join your friends and meet new kids on Wednesday, March 11 at 4PM in the Loft at the Main Library at 1703 Orrington Avenue. Register online or call the Loft at 847-448-8625. This event is open only for middle or high school aged kids.

Celebrate Teen Tech Week! Join us for Rockband and Wii Gaming in the Loft on Friday, March 13 3:30-5:30PM. Teen Tech Week, March 8-14, 2009, is a national initiative sponsored by the Young Adult Library Services Association (YALSA).

Having trouble finding time to register to vote? How about during the weekend at the library? The League of Women Voters of Evanston will be registering voters at the Evanston Public Library at 1703 Orrington Avenue Saturday, March 7 and Sunday, March 8, 1:00 – 4:00 p.m. To register one must be a U.S. citizen and 18 years old by April 7. Bring two forms of identification, one of which must have your current address. This can be a driver’s license, state ID, checkbook, mail postmarked to applicant’s current address. Don’t delay! The last day for regular registration for the April election is March 10.

The Evanston Pubic Library will show the movie Ben X (2008, 93 min. Belgium) on Monday, March 9 at 7 PM in the Community Meeting Room. Ben is different. His life is a universe all to itself, where he avidly plays his favorite on-line computer game in an attempt block out reality. Ben has Asperger's Syndrome, a mild form of autism that prevents normal communication and makes him ideal fodder for all the school bullies. As the bullies' relentless attacks push him over the edge and out of control, his on-line dream girl, Scarlite, steps in to help him devise a perfect plan to make them pay for their persecution. Director Nic Balthazar's dazzling debut blends fantasy and social realism to bring us an utterly original and important film.

The African American Literature Book Discussion Group will be discussing When and Where I Enter by Paula Giddings on Wednesday, March 11 at 7PM. The discussion will be held in the Community Meeting Room of the Evanston Public Library at 1703 Orrington Avenue. When and Where I Enter is an eloquent testimonial to the profound influence of African-American women on race and women's movements throughout American history. Register and pick up copies of the book at the 2nd floor Reader's Services desk, or call 847-8620.

Adventures of a Desert Queen: A Meeting With Gertrude Belle will be presented Sunday March 15th at the Evanston Public Library. Gertrude Bell (1868-1926) was a lone English woman in the male Muslim world of the Middle East; a famous author who wrote about the Arabs, an acknowledged archeologist, a courageous traveler who dined with china and crystal, dressed in extravagant clothes, rode on a camel and horse and penetrated dangerous regions of the Arabian desert. She was named to the high post of Oriental Secretary and achieved nothing less than a miracle by creating the modern state of Iraq. Actress Betsey Mean brings this fascinating woman to life with authentic costumes and excerpts from her writings. The program will be held at 2:00 PM in the Community Meeting Room at the Main Library.

Teens are invited to a Saturday afternoon movie in the Loft at the Evanston Public Library. What if mankind had to leave Earth and somebody forgot to turn the last robot off? The year is 2700 and WALL-E is a robot still spending every day doing what he was made for. Soon he is visited by a sleek robot named EVE whom he chases across the galaxy with a pet cockroach and a heroic team of malfunctioning misfit robots. The movie “Wall-E” (Rated G) will be shown at 2:00PM on Saturday March 14th in the Loft at the Main Library.

Friday Film series at the Evanston Public Library will feature Cross Creek (1983, 127 min, rated PG). This is a lyrical, elegant, and truthful film about Pulitzer Prize-winning author Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings (Mary Steenburgen). Cross Creek reveals the rough and tough edges of the liberated author who wrote The Yearling. The film shows at 3:00PM on Friday, March 13 in the Community Meeting Room at the Main Library.

Taking Root:The Vision of Wangari Maathai, by Lisa Merton and Alan Dater (2008, 79 min.) is the nest featured Reeltime film. Can the simple act of planting a tree change the course of a nation? When Nobel Peace Prize Laureate Wangari Maathai began planting trees in Kenya, she launched a nationwide movement to safeguard the environment and protect human rights. Taking Root lovingly portrays Maathai's vision and inspiring world-view. (Co-Presented with ITVS Community Cinema, Independent Lens and WTTW 11.) This Reeltime showing is at 7:30PM in the Community Meeting Room of the Evanston Public Library.

"A Theatre Review"

"Slaphappy"
Theatre Building
1225 West Belmont Avenue
Chicago, Illinois

Reviewed by Richard Allen Eisenhardt

Beat the Jester Productions in association with John F. McNamara and Jeffrey Katz is giving Chicagoans the world premiere of a new comedy by Gary Slezak and under the direction of one of Chicago's top directors Richard Shavzin.

After seeing three heavy dramas in "Desire Under the Elms," "The Wild Duck" and "Not Enough Air" I was all set for a comedy.

Unfortunately I found "Slaphappy" a major disappointment at the performance I attended. The audience was polite with its applause and the show had its moments but while Slezak is a good writer this is not one of his better scripts.

I found no problems with the talented cast that includes three talented equity actors. Judy Blue plays Laurel, Michael Joseph Mitchell is Stanek and Doug Mackenzie is Kip. Judy blue is one outstanding actress who deserves better. Her costumes were glamorous. Others in the cast are Maurice McNicholas as Valerie, Lucas Neff as Phillippe and Annie DiMara as Cherie. They all try their best to entertain the audience, but it's the material that fails. The play takes place in Paris but it should have been set in London as the French accents of the two actors French simply don't work.

The show runs two hours and the actress playing Cherie, who the bellboy and doctor are interested in has a beautiful body but after running around in her bikini lingerie for 1 hour and 40 minutes it becomes too much. It was nice to see her in a shirt and blouse for the last 10 minutes of the show. One hopes by the time the show ends its run she doesn't have pneumonia.

Kip is a doctor who chases after Lauren and ends up with Cherie. Slamming doors, exploding rockets, mistaken medications that Kip, Stanek and Phillippe get injected with during the course as well as dressing up as a duck, hiding behind furniture and curtains simply doesn't work for me.

"Slaphappy" runs through March 15. For show times, show dates and reservations call 773-327-5252. Tickets are $25 - $30.

Bohemian Theatre Ensemble presents Playing with Fire (after Frankenstein)

by Barbara Field

Directed by Peter Marston Sullivan

BoHo continues its 5th season by exploring a literary classic from a different perspective. As a company, BoHo strives to illuminate the classics of years past and make them accessible to today's audiences. Through the intimacy of its writing, Barbara Fields' Playing with Fire (after Frankenstein) fulfills this goal by bringing back to life the tragic tale of one of literature's most notorious creatures in a most unique way. And, as usual, the talented cast is able to bring the complexities of this piece to life deftly.

Join us as we present this fascinating and soul-searching piece of art. The questions brought to the fore are ones all of us examine throughout our lives and must sometimes be willing to let go ...unanswered.

Playing with Fire (after Frankenstein) allows BoHo to continue to push its creative and artistic boundaries while bringing another outstanding piece to the BoHo Theatre @ Heartland Studio space.

Writer's Theatre in Glencoe, IL is an established theatre company and one I'm always impressed with. Productions of "Lion in the Winter" and "Picnic" are some of their highly critical productions.

In 1947 French playwright Jean Genet wrote "The Maids" and Writers Theatre has a translation by Martin Crimp that is having a production in Writers theatre/s smaller theatre.

I maybe in the few, but I must admit this is indeed a strange play and I didn't find it one that I enjoyed with the exception of the director and the strong performance of its three person cast. I maybe in the minority of my evaluation but I was glad when the 100 minutes came to an end with no intermission but I'm sure many of the audiences won't find the evening taxing.

McDermott has assembled three top actresses who are Elizabeth Laidlow as Solange, Helen Sadler as Claire and Niki Lindgren as Madame.

It is billed as a French thriller that deals with jealousy, resentment, sexual tension and murder.

You'll see the sisters hate but serve their wealthy socialite employer and enjoy putting on Madame's wardrobe.

"The Maids" runs through April 5 in Writers "Books on Vernon" theatre. For performance schedule, show times and reservations call 847-242-6000. Tickets are $40 to $65.00

Real Security

Chester M. Przybylo

During these unsettling times everyone is searching for ways to feel more secure. This article provides details on how different components of a complete estate plan can provide real security for you and your loved ones, while building a solid foundation that can bring peace of mind during these unsettling times and in the future.

There are some things you cannot control, like the economy or the weather. But you can do things that will provide real security in unsettling times.

Financial security is one aspect of your security and, of course, it is important to meet with your financial planner to make sure you are investing your assets appropriately.

However, real security goes far beyond that. Security is knowing that you and your loved ones are taken care of now and in the future. A complete estate plan can do that, bringing peace of mind in unsettling times. I'm sure you'll agree, that now, more than ever before, it is vital to build a solid foundation that brings real security by protecting your assets and your family.

A complete estate plan allows you and your family to rest easier at night, knowing that you have planned for death and incapacity.

A complete estate plan includes:

A Revocable Trust. This allows for management of your assets in the event of disability and avoids probate.

Powers of Attorney. A Power of Attorney for Health Care allows someone to make medical decisions for you when you are unable to make them for yourself. A Property Power of Attorney appoints someone to make decisions over your financial assets and, if desired, can be effective upon your incapacity.

A HIPAA Authorization Form. This authorization form allows people you designate to find out information about you from medical providers. Without this, a hospital might refuse to disclose even your presence in the emergency room.

A Will. A Will is the document in which you appoint guardians for your minor children.

At night, before you go to sleep, you make sure the doors are locked and the kids are tucked in. With a complete estate plan in place, you can sleep a little easier at night knowing that the people you trust have the power to act for you in any eventuality.

We cannot control the world around us. But, just as we make sure that the doors are locked and the kids are safe in bed, we can put in place a structure to take care of things when needed. A qualified estate planning attorney, one who focuses his or her practice in the area of estate planning, can help design a plan that fits your unique needs.

After completing your estate plan, you'll be able to relax knowing that everything is handled and the kids are safe. Sweet dreams!

Chester M. Przybylo is a member of the American Academy of Estate Planning Attorneys and has been engaged in the practice of law for the last 40 years. For more information or to attend an upcoming seminar, call (773)631-2525.

Free Choral Concert!

Seven area synagogue choirs take part in the annual Zemer Am (“Song of the People”) Choral Festival, a free choral concert to be held Sunday, March 29, 4:00 p.m. at Shaare Tikvah (5800 N Kimball Ave, Chicago, 773-539-2202). Participating choirs are from Temple Beth Israel (Skokie), Jewish Reconstructionist Congregation (Evanston), Anshe Emet (Chicago), Shir Hadash (Northbrook), Am Shalom (Glencoe), B'nai Tikvah (Deerfield), and B’nai Jehoshua Beth Elohim (BJBE - Glenview) Also featured will be Kol Zimrah Community Singers, a volunteer civic chorus of Jewish singers from many backgrounds serving the metropolitan Chicago area, and the Milwaukee Jewish Community Choir.

Huggable Bears Teach Learning Disabled Students “To Do Good”

Bears of Hope, a Skokie-based non-profit volunteer organization that makes huggable fabric bears for ill or distressed children and seniors adults was one of four projects in a recent “Community Day” at the Professional Assistant Center for Education, (PACE) at National Louis University (NLU), Skokie Campus.

“Community Day was planned to give PACE students first-hand lessons about how you can feel good about doing things to help others,” explained Barbara Richardson, PACE Student Life Coordinator. PACE is a special program at National Louis University, Skokie campus, for adults ages 18-30 with multiple learning disabilities. The program teaches students to live independently and work in the community.

The bears will be completed by other volunteers and then delivered to religious leaders and social service organizations to give to those in need of hugs and comfort. Since no two illnesses or situations are the same, no two bears are alike; each one is unique-that’s Bears of Hope’s philosophy!

The other three projects for the PACE Community Day included creating valentines for seniors; making dog biscuits for an animal shelter; and cleaning the land site around the NLU campus and nearby hotels.

Bears of Hope depends on volunteers and financial support to continue its work. All donations are used to purchase materials to make the bears. There is no paid staff. To volunteer or for more information, visit www.bearsofhope.com or contact Carolyn Reiner at 847-673-4098 or bears@carolynreiner.com. FREE PROGRAM MARCH 12 TO EXPLORE FDR AND THE “NEW DEAL”

The $787 billion economic stimulus plan has prompted some comparisons to FDR’s New Deal.

Area residents have the opportunity to hear more about the New Deal at a free lecture at the Evanston Public Library at 7 p.m. on Thursday evening, March 12 hosted by the Republican Club of Evanston.

Speaker Richard Lorenc, director of outreach for the Illinois Policy Institute, will examine in what way today’s economic crisis compares to the Great Depression, whether FDR’s New Deal expanded the powers of the legislative and executive branches beyond those defined in the U.S. Constitution, whether this laid the groundwork for today’s economic crisis and response and, finally, where the nation should go from here.

The Illinois Policy Institute is a non-partisan research organization dedicated to supporting free market principles and liberty-based public policy initiatives. Mr. Lorenc manages the Liberty Leaders program, which assembles and trains individuals interested in promoting liberty throughout Illinois.

This is the first in a three-part series examining current issues that are important to area voters hosted by the Republican Club of Evanston, a 175-member non-profit organization that serves as an outreach arm supporting the Evanston GOP and the Republican Party.

On Earth Day, Wednesday, April 22, Peter Fotos, director of government relations for the Heartland Institute, will give a presentation that challenges the belief that human activity causes climate change. The series will conclude on Thursday, May 14, with a presentation on minority participation in politics by Eric Wallace, PhD, publisher of the online magazine Freedom’s Journal and former chairman of the African American Republican Council of Illinois.

For more information, email the Republican Club of Evanston at republicanclubofevanston@gmail.com or call the Evanston Republican Organization at 847 491-9190.

Stop Smoking Clinic in Evanston

The Evanston Department of Health and Human Services and Skokie Health Department will be hosting a six-session Stop Smoking Clinic April 7, 8, 9, 10, 13 & 21. All sessions begin at 7:00 p.m. The clinic is being held at the Evanston Civic Center, 2100 Ridge Avenue, Evanston, IL 60201. This program is being provided free of charge to people who live or are employed in either Skokie or Evanston.

Participants attend six evening sessions over a two-week period and then are eligible to attend follow-up sessions for long-term reinforcement. Twenty-four-hour live hot line service is available for all participants both during and after the clinic. Group and individual counseling is provided.

There are no shots, record keeping, hypnosis, needles, or any other quick-fix gimmicks. The method is clear and simple. Participants quit smoking completely at the first session and are supported through the worst period of physiological and psychological withdrawal. Long-term reinforcement then provides additional support to maintain abstinence.

Most people have paid fees ranging up to $150 for this same program. Evanston and Skokie residents and employees are being provided this same quality of service at no charge, making this an unbeatable offer.

Jerry Zabin, L.C.S.W., is conducting the clinic. Mr. Zabin has been working in the field of social work since 1976. As the former Director of two addiction programs, he has a great deal of experience in working with chemical dependency. He has conducted Smoking Cessation Clinics over the past twenty years, helping many people to successfully stop smoking, and has maintained a psychotherapy practice since 1985.

Being a nicotine addict means there is no magic cure, no easy way out. But nicotine addiction - like any other drug dependency - is treatable. This program offers the most comprehensive and sound support to beat that addiction.

For information, go to www.evanstonssc.com or call the Evanston Health Department at (847) 866-2949.

Presidential Pooch

By Bosley

It seems that our Human’s have recently elected a new President; supposedly it is someone to run the country. Humans always need someone “in charge,” they are not like us dogs that decide things in the moment and adapt easily. We are much simpler then our beloved Humans, why don’t we run the country? Of yes, because we are smart enough to not want the pawache! Anyway, it turns out that this new Pres. Wants a pooch for the family and the country is in a tizzy over what breed or rescue he should get, so I am throwing my paw into the ring!

Its nothing unusual that a President has a dog, who do you think helps makes the important decisions? You know Humans are helpless on their own! Anyway the issue is that the little Humans have allergies, so they are trying to make an educated decision on what dog to get.

My ears really perked up at this because of all the talk about hypoallergenic dogs. News flash; THERE IS NO SUCH THING! Many believe that it’s the hair that makes them sneeze; actually it’s the dander of the pet that does it. Why don’t Human’s realize this, it’s a cruel twist of fate that man’s best friend is not always tolerated by the Human nose. Yes, some of us dog’s are easier for some people with allergies to tolerate, but that truly depends. There is NO GUARRANTEE that just because you get a certain “so called hypoallergenic breed” that you won’t be allergic.

We are told that the Presidential family is doing their homework, and that is very important! What I think anyone should do before adopting a new pup is go to the breeder’s home, spend time with the dogs and see how you react. Do the same for the shelter dogs, most will let you spend time with the pups. Really love them and put your face in their hair. How does the allergic person react? Breeders and shelters want their pups in forever homes; they want to match the right pooch with the right family. Humans should not be afraid to ask their expertise.

There is NO GURANTEE that a dog is hypoallergenic (I know I just said that, but sometimes Humans are a bit slow.) My Human has helped rehome many dogs that where suppose to be hypoallergenic and it turned out that the Human couldn’t tolerate them. Humans please do your homework! There has also been some talk about those “designer breeds,’ as being hypoallergenic; I no you are laughing with me my furry friends; Human’s just don’t get how us dogs are made. Just because you breed one dog to something that is supposed to be hypoallergenic does NOT mean you get a hypoallergenic dog. The pure breed dogs of today took years of dedicated breeding and understanding of dogs to get us here, there was a purpose to each breed and why they wanted certain things. I don’t think any breed was ever created to be hypoallergenic; it just turn out that some of us dogs got luckier then others. The point is, that you Humans need to make an educated decision about what pet to bring home. The effect the dog has on your nose is only one consideration (they only give me some much room to write so I won’t get into anything else) so please do your homework.

My suggestion for the President is a Poodle of course! We are usually well tolerated by Humans, very smart, very classy, very pawfect! I don’t know why Poodles get such a bad rap, did you know that Poodles where originally breed to go into the water and retriever the birds that the hunter shot, Yuck! Well, that shows how sporty and intelligent we are, but I am not putting any dead thing in my mouth!

Anyway, to the lucky pooch that will run our country, I really would like a day dedicated to us Dogs. For Heavens sake, even Groundhogs have a day!

Bark on!

Rabies: A Discussion for Kids

Rabies In Animals

Animals with rabies may act differently than healthy animals. Wild animals may move slowly or act tame. Also, some wild animals, like foxes, raccoons, and skunks, that normally avoid porcupines, may receive a face full of quills if they become rabid and try to bite these prickly rodents. A pet that is usually friendly may snap at you and try to bite.

There are two common types of rabies. One type is "furious" rabies. Animals with this type are hostile, may bite at objects, and have an increase in saliva. In the movies and in books, rabid animals foam at the mouth. In real life, rabid animals look like they have foam in their mouth because they have more saliva.

The second and more common form is known as paralytic or "dumb" rabies. An animal with "dumb" rabies is timid and shy. It often rejects food and has paralysis of the lower jaw and muscles.

Signs of rabies in animals include:

- changes in an animal’s behavior
- general sickness
- problems swallowing
- an increase in drool or saliva
- wild animals that appear abnormally tame or sick
- animals that may bite at everything if excited
- difficulty moving or paralysis
- death

Animals in the early stage of rabies may not have any signs, although they can still infect you if they bite you. The incubation period is the time from the animal bite to when signs appear. In rabies, it is usually 1-3 months. But it can last as long as several years. Once the virus reaches the brain or spinal cord, signs of the disease appear.

Rabies In Humans

In humans, signs and symptoms usually occur 30-90 days after the bite. Once people develop symptoms, they almost always die. This is why it is very important to tell an adult and go to your doctor right away if you have been bitten by an animal that might be rabid.

Early symptoms of rabies include fever, headache, sore throat, and feeling tired. As the virus gets to the brain, the person may act nervous, confused, and upset.

Other symptoms of rabies in humans include:

- pain or tingling at the site of the bite
- hallucinations (for example, seeing things that are not really there)
- hydrophobia ("fear of water" due to spasms in the throat)
- paralysis (unable to move parts of the body)
- As the disease advances, the person enters into a coma and dies.

How Do I Keep My Pet From Getting Rabies?

The best way to prevent rabies is to make sure your pets get and stay vaccinated against rabies!!

Other Ways To Prevent Rabies In Your Pets:

- Walk your dog on a leash.
- Never let them roam freely where wildlife may be present.
- Consider keeping your pets indoors.
- Call animal control to take wild or stray animals away, especially if you see an animal acting strangely.
- If an animal bites your pet, handle your pet carefully so you do not get bitten.

Get a rabies booster vaccination for them. Even if they have had the rabies vaccination, a booster shot will help them fight off the disease better.

Get your pets spayed or neutered. Pets that are fixed are less likely to leave home, become strays, and make more stray animals.

How Do I Keep From Getting Rabies?

- Never touch unfamiliar or wild animals. Enjoy wild animals from afar.
- Avoid direct contact with stray animals. Stray cats and dogs may not have been vaccinated against rabies.

Never adopt wild animals or bring them into your home.

Do not try to nurse sick animals to health. It is common to want to rescue and nurse a hurt wild animal, but that animal may have rabies. Call an animal control person or animal rescue group if you find a sick animal.

Make sure that your trash cans and pet foods are secured so that they do not attract wild animals.

Summer Camp Registration Expands

Nonresidents may join residents in registering for Evanston's many youth and adult camps this summer. Registrations are accepted in person, by phone or online.

The City offers more than 35 summer camps for youth and adults, including camps for children as young as age 2½. Choose from traditional full-day and half-day camps as well as the more family- and adult-oriented camps held late afternoon or early evening. To fit a variety of schedules, full- and half-day camp options and one-week and multi-week programs are offered.

The 2009 Summer Camp Guide, which describes each camp and the registration procedures in detail, is available at all community centers and the Civic Center. In addition, the full guide, including a registration form that can be downloaded, is available at the website listed above. For details, call 847-866-2900 or check online: www.cityofevanston.org/summercamps.

Lenten Menu Ideas

Broiled Salmon Fillets (Moroccan style)

- 3 to 4 salmon fillets
- 2 tablespoons fresh chopped parsley
- 4 tablespoons of olive oil
- 1/2 stick of butter, melted
- 3 garlic cloves - crushed
- 2 tsp. paprika
- 1/4 tsp. of cayenne pepper
- 1 tablespoon of cumino
- juice of 1/2 lemon

Arrange the fillets in a baking dish and place them under a very hot broiler. Cook, with the broiler door open for 3 to 5 minutes or until golden brown. Melt the butter, add oil and all the remaining ingredients, mix them all well, and pour over the salmon. Continue to broil for additional few minutes till a nice crisp on the top of this dish. Sprinkle with fresh lemon juice. Serve immediately with quartered lemon, if desired.

Call for Artists for Evanston Festivals

The City of Evanston is seeking artists for its two summer arts festivals, the Ethnic Arts Festival, July 18-19, and the Lakeshore Arts Festival, Aug. 1-2. Set against the scenic backdrop of Evanston’s lakefront, both festivals are held in Dawes Park, Church St. and Sheridan Road.

The Ethnic Arts Festival is a juried festival open to all ethnic, folk and fine artists whose work expresses the heritage of a national, regional, tribal or language group. Exhibitor fees are $240 and the nonrefundable jury fee is $35. The deadline for submitting applications is Monday, April 6.

Always held the first weekend in August, the Lakeshore Arts Festival continues to earn its reputation as one of the North Shore's premiere fine arts summer festivals. Also a juried event, it is open to all fine visual artists and crafters. Exhibitor fees are $310 and the nonrefundable jury fee is $35. Applications for the Lakeshore Arts Festival must be received by Friday, March 6.

Artist applications for both festivals are now available online at www.cityofevanston.org/arts. For more details, call 847-448-8260. The Ethnic Arts Festival and Lakeshore Arts Festival are produced by the City of Evanston's Cultural Arts Division and are partially supported by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency.
